- Structural and M&E engineers
- Tier one and tier two contractors
- Lawyers
- Insurers and insurance brokers

GIRI

Root causes of error

- Inadequate planning (from task through to project level)
- Late design changes
- Poorly communicated design information
- Poor culture in relation to quality
- Poorly coordinated and incorrect design information
- Inadequate attention paid in the design to construction
- Excessive commercial (financial and time) pressures
- Poor interface management and design
- Ineffective communication between team members
- Inadequate supervisory skills

GIRI

'New' root causes of error

- . Underpricing of future works – 'the race to the bottom';
- . Sustainability and financial robustness of supply chains;
- . Productivity;
- . Where will work come from, will there be enough?
- . Poor and confusing regulation;
- . Impact on people;

GIRI

'New' root causes of error

- . Aligning the supply chain to start again productively, also some subcontractors may not exist going forward;
- . Supporting our clients by helping the supply chain remain in place...acting with empathy and being truly collaborative!
- . Uncertainty about change of protocols;
- . The perfect GIRI storm... we've been so busy keeping things going - have we 'got things wrong' in the interim, that we don't yet know about?

Poll 1:

How you think the different costs of error may be influenced by the COVID 19 crisis?

<https://forms.gle/FVS5Uqp9Vr7w9cFd7>

How has COVID 19 changed behaviour?

Consider the following groups:

- Staff who are currently working harder than usual
- Staff who are currently working, but with reduced output
- Staff who have been furloughed
- Contractors/supply chain who are out of work

GIRI

Poll 2:

Which single group of staff do you think are at the highest risk of developing behaviours which will lead to an increase in errors?

<https://forms.gle/EePUFM4fBHyh4UJ26>

Use the chat box to identify any other groups you think are at particular risk.

GIRI

What behaviours have you seen?

What behaviours do you anticipate?

Use the chat box to write your answers:
